During this academic year, the International Education Committee approved the following institutional relationships and programs:

Semester-Long Programs:
- St Andrews Pre-med Program
- University of Mannheim
- FU-BEST Program

Short-Term and Summer Study Abroad Programs:
- Music in Cartagena, Colombia (Joanne Kong)
- Chaplaincy pilgrimage to Poland (Andrew Goodman)
- Chaplaincy pilgrimage to South Korea (Emily Cobb)
- Empowering Women in Guatemala (Holly Blake)
- SSIR Proposals for several locations
  - Canada (Craig Kocher and Kim Dean)
  - England (Bert Ashe)
  - Spain (Aurora Hermida-Ruiz and Carlos Valencia)
- Multiple athletic programs abroad
  - Golf in Ireland (Adam Decker)
  - Basketball in Mexico (Michael Shafer)
- Literacy in Europe (Tammy Milby)
- Great Barrier Reef in Australia (Kim Klinker)
- Economics & the Environment in Brazil (Lorenza Marcin)
- Academics and Athletics in Seville (Carlos Valencia and Aurora Hermida-Ruiz)

Recognizing the current growth and potential of short yet academically sound study abroad programs, the Committee has reviewed the proposals put forth by the short-term programs task force regarding the support required for handling the logistics and specifics of these programs. The Committee recommended the proposal which requires a centralized position within OIE to coordinate short-term programs in collaboration with faculty. The Committee did request, however, that the recommended task-force proposal be taken to the deans of the schools for discussion and their approval.

Cultures and Languages across the Curriculum (C-LAC) Program: In 2012-2013, 155 students participated in 82 C-LAC sections offered by 25 different faculty members, mainly from the School of Business and A&S. Language options included: Spanish, French, German, Chinese, Latin, Greek, Russian, Arabic, Portuguese, Japanese, Korean and Italian. An increase of 46 students from the previous year.

During this academic year, the International Education Committee approved discontinuing the program affiliation with Smolny-Bard.
• The Carole Weinstein Summer Grant sub-committee reviewed twenty-eight proposals and awarded seventeen grants. Ten grants were awarded to students and seven to faculty. Projects will be conducted in France, Zambia, China, Turkey, Kigali, Japan, Vietnam, Belize, Sweden, Nicaragua, Somalia, Scotland, and Iceland.

• One joint Curriculum Internationalization Grant was awarded to Jan French (Sociology & Anthropology) and Jennifer Erkulwater (Political Science).

• Thirteen degree-seeking international students were recipients of the Carole Weinstein Scholarship.

• The Faculty Seminar Abroad is to take place in May, 2013. It will include ten participants from the Schools of Arts & Sciences, Jepson, Business, and Law as well as the Director of Community Outreach for the Boatwright Library. Three participants are full professors, three are associate professors, and one is an assistant professor. The participants represent the fields of Chemistry, Religion, Biology, Leadership Studies, Management, Environmental Law, and the Actual Innocence law project.

• A total of 378 students studied abroad for a semester or more during the 2012-2013 academic year. 306 studied abroad during the fall 2012 semester, 62 studied abroad during the spring 2013 semester, and 10 studied abroad for the entire academic year.

• There were 392 international students (full-degree and exchange) on campus during the 2012-2013 academic year representing 72 countries.

• There were 19 international scholars on campus during the 2012-2013 academic year representing 14 countries.

• The IE Committee met with Nanci Tessier and Mark Detterick on April 30th, 2013 to discuss two issues which will be impacting the process of internationalization, study abroad, and the Office of International Education. Present were also: Steve Allred, provost, Lori Schuyler, chief of staff, and the following International Education Committee members: Elena Calvillo, Tom Cosse, Michele Cox, Jeff Hass, Aurora Hermida-Ruiz, Marilyn Hesser, Joe Hoff, David Kitchen, Brianne Meagher, Lisa Miles, Krittika Onsanit, Terry Price, Laura Runyen-Janecky, Vincent Wang, Clark Williams, Yucel Yanikdag, Jonathan Stubbs, and Steve Tallman. Mark Detterick presented on the new Study Abroad budget, while Nanci Tessier presented on the findings from the Econometric Modeling Group, after which there was time for questions and discussion.

In sum: academic year 2012-13 oversaw continued strengthening and expansion of international education at the University of Richmond.