Mid-Career Faculty Summit

The Office of the Provost invites applications from associate professors for the 2022 Mid-Career Faculty Summit.

At the Summit, associate professors will establish a strong foundation to be able to:

- communicate career strengths and areas for growth,
- articulate professional contribution,
- identify needs and sources of support to advance professional (and personal) goals,
- begin to design short- and long-term goals, with corresponding action steps, and
- contribute in meaningful ways to professional advancement and to diverse stakeholder groups (department, institution, community, family, others)

The Summit has two connected sessions – application is for participation in both sessions: Friday, November 11 from 11:45 am - 3:30 pm and Wednesday, December 7 from 11 am to 3:30 pm.

Applications are due by Monday, October 03, 2022 at 5 pm. Click here for more details and to apply for this professional development opportunity.

Questions may be addressed to Linda Boland, Associate Provost for Faculty.
